CAUSE

Mr. Bollaert was sentenced on January 17, 2014, and due to his pretrial supervision in the Central District of Illinois, his case was immediately accepted for supervision in that district. Following sentencing, Mr. Bollaert was given permission to remain in San Diego, California, to visit his girlfriend. However, due to Mr. Bollaert's pending state matter wherein he has been accused of developing a "revenge porn" internet scheme, he was specifically directed not to stay with his girlfriend at the dormitory at the University of San Marcos. It was explained that absent the third-party risk disclosure to the University, permission to stay on University property would not be granted. On the evening of Sunday, January 19, 2014, Mr. Bollaert disregarded this direction and he spent the night at the University.

In addition to the above, on February 6, 2014, the probation office was notified that Mr. Bollaert was consistently showing up late for drug treatment counseling sessions. He is not employed and therefore able to make his treatment sessions.

By way of intervention related to the above noncompliance, Mr. Bollaert has agreed to complete twenty-five (25) hours of community service as evidenced by his signature on the attached form (PROB 49). Additionally, for the Court's information and unrelated to the above, Mr. Bollaert is returning to the Southern District of California for supervision.
